Molly, picture perfect at 100 years young

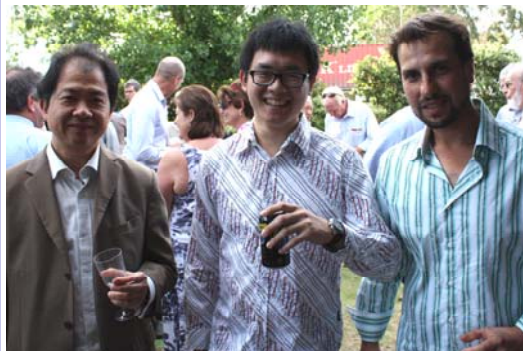

Sadly it's a rare pleasure but celebrating 100th birthdays is one of the great pleasures of being a Member of Parliament.

It was wonderful to catch up with Booragoon constituent Molly on her very special occasion and an even greater joy to see some of Molly's recently completed artworks (pictured).

I had a great time spending an afternoon with Molly and her family and was pleased to present her with flowers and cards of congratulations from the Queen, Governor General, Prime Minister and myself.

Dennis Jensen Christmas Party

Merry Christmas

My thanks for your support in 2011.

May you, your family and friends have a safe and merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

I look forward to working together in 2012.

Local Achievement

Dr David Henderson of Rossmoyne Senior High School was recently named Secondary Teacher of the Year.

David is an exemplary and highly experienced teacher of science and career and enterprise who has had a profoundly positive influence on the learning opportunities for students.

He consistently uses his ongoing research and worldwide networks to create new and challenging learning opportunities – within and beyond the classroom – to motivate, challenge and inspire students to achieve excellence.

David has also made a sustained contribution through research and curriculum development partnerships to the school and broader education community.

Fostering a culture of excellence in our education system will create a strong base to ensure long term economic growth for Australia.

I commend David for his dedication to his students.

Education excellence

Genoa exchange

Aidan van Hemert has embarked on the overseas exchange of a lifetime to Genoa.

Aiden visited the office to pick up Australian flags and memorabilia to present to his host schools and family while he is away.

It was great to chat with Aiden about his exchange.

I have had a note from Aiden's Mum to say his family have had limited contact with him, but he has arrived and is settling in nicely.

He said the city was pretty and the view from his exchange fathers work place is beautiful. He is off to school this week and with the help of facebook before he had left Australia, he had already had contact from many students he was to meet at the school.

I wish Aidan every success on his exchange and all his future endeavours

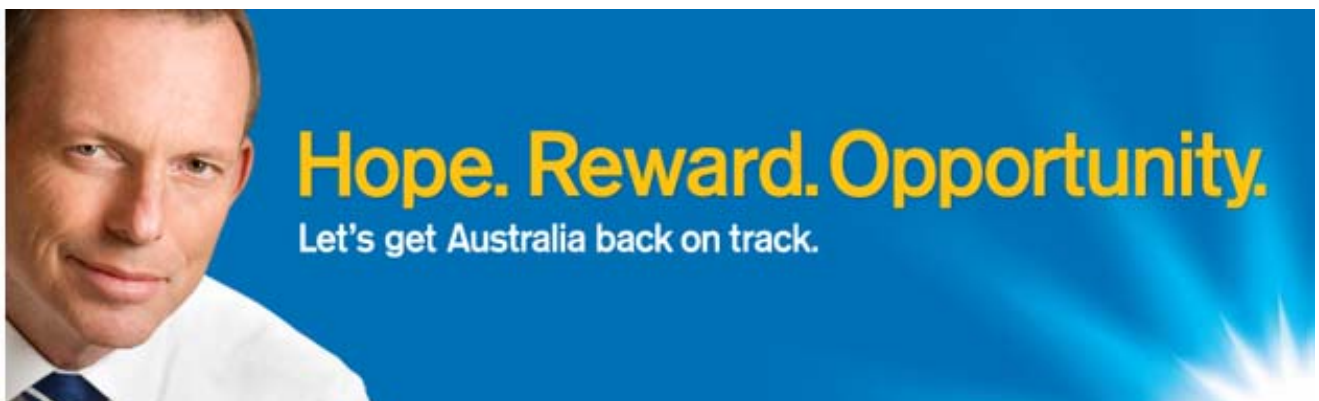

History success

Willetton Senior School Student Jacob Baron recently earned recognition as a budding historian after taking out the Year 7-8 category of the National History Challenge.

Jacob was one of seven W.A students to win award in the national awards.

My congratulations to Jacob.

I'm sure history will show this young gentleman achieves great success.

Masked Ball

2012

A Diamond necklace, flights to exotic locations, and Perth's most influential Liberals dressed to the nines.

We're not talking about a James Bond film, rather the 2012 Marginal Seats Masked Ball to raise funds for the Federal and State Marginal Seats Campaign.

You will remember what a fantastic night the Ball was this year.

With your support Marginal Seats Masked Ball 2012 is set to be bigger and even better than this year.

Reconnect with friends, mingle with dignitaries and bid on some of the amazing auction items we have secured.

We will be announcing the date and venue of the Ball very soon. Stay tuned!

Remember our Division is the first Division to make their contribution to the Marginal Seats Campaign. We have gained much respect within the Party for ensuring our Safe Seat does everything it can to assist our Marginal Seat colleagues.

At the time of the ball we will be just one year out from the next Federal Election.

We are heading towards the fight of our life to get rid of this insidious Labor Government who count as their achievements; the Pink Batts debacle, over priced school halls, The Carbon Tax and Mining Tax.

Your continued support of Western Australia's Marginal Seats Campaign ensures that we are in the best possible position come the next Federal Election to elect a Coalition Government.

Yours sincerely

HERE'S TO A NEW & MOTIVATED TANGNEY WOMEN'S DIVISION

Dear Tangney Women,

First let me start by saying Congratulations to our newly elected Tangney Women's President Monika Dunnet! We are very lucky to have her in this role and I know from working with her on the 2011 Tangney Ball Committee, we can expect great things, so Congratulations Monika and thank you for taking on the role.

Also, thank you to all the women who attended the AGM on Tuesday 29th November 2011, we had over 30 attendee's and an incredible speech from Tennis Legend Margaret Court, all in all a very successful night. Some quotes from the night she shared that I hope you'll enjoy as much as I did were "Don't ever complain about politics just get in there and change it", "Don't look back at your past, only look forward to the future" and last but certainly not least "Your life will be no higher than your mouth".

Without further ado, I would like to introduce the Tangney Women's Division new executive. I have listed next to each name the contact details for your reference should you want or need to get in contact with any of the new executive.

Position	Name
President	Monika Dunnet
Vice Chairman	Ros King
Vice Chairman	Teresa Scott
Secretary	Anna Ogilvie
Treasurer	Dana Stanton
Delegate to Liberal Women's Council	Teresa Scott Pat Oliver Ros King Dana Stanton Anna Ogilvie

Monika and I have discussed holding our next meeting and event some time in February, but think it best to let everyone get through the busy Christmas and New Year period before we start planning that.

I look forward to many more successful events and being part of a Women's division that is active.

I hope everyone has a Merry Christmas and a safe & prosperous Christmas and New Year.

Kind Regards,

Anna Ogilvie
Secretary of the Tangney Women's Division

President Monika Dunnet and Secretary Anna Ogilvie

Remembrance Day

On November 11 each year we commemorate the sacrifice of 103,000 Australians who made the ultimate sacrifice

We also remember the hundreds of thousands of Australians who have served in the Australian Defence Forces in times of war and peace, especially those who continue to carry the wounds of their service.

It was my honour to represent the Hon Tony Abbott MP, Leader of the Opposition at the Remembrance Day Commemorative Service at the State War Memorial, Kings Park

Over time, Remembrance Day has become the day of national commemoration for the fallen of all wars and to reflect on the service of others in defence of freedom and democracy.

As we paused to commemorate Remembrance Day, one of our most recognised and symbolic institutions marked 70 years of service to the nation.

The 70th anniversary of the opening of the Australian War Memorial is a moment for solemn celebration for its service to Australia.

On 11 November 1941, just weeks before the Japanese attacks on Pearl Harbor and Darwin and the darkest days of World War Two, Australia's Governor-General, Lord Gowrie VC, opened the Australian War Memorial in memory of the 64,000 dead of the World War One.

At the conclusion of World War Two, the total number of names would exceed 100,000, with 39,000 names added to the Roll of Honour.

Today, the Australian War Memorial contains the name of all of Australia's 103,000.

Every year, almost one million people visit the Australian War Memorial, including more than 125,000 school children.
